TEXAS NATURAL GAS TO FEED INDUSTRIAL AREA OF NORTHEAST

ALLEGED WAR NECESSITY PERMITTED CONSTRUC-TION BIG LINE

By Brack Curry.

HOUSTON. Sept. 7.—(P)—Texas natural gas will be flowing through the Corpus Christi to West Virginia pipeline by Oct. 15, Gardiner Symonds, president of the Tennessee Gas and Transmission Company, which is constructing the conduit, said today.

Within 15 days after construction is finished the $54,000,000 pipeline will start feeding 287,000,000 feet daily of gas to vital war industries in the Appalachian area, Symonds said. If testing operations require less than 15 days. the 24-inch line will swing into operation earlier.

Welding has been completed on 1,027 miles of the line and 985 miles of pipe has been lowered in and backfilled. Finished are 93 per cent of the river crossings and 85 per cent of the river crossings and 85 per cent of the pumping stations. On 157 miles, final testing has been carried out.

Since January 10, when the first welding took place, 10,000 men have isbored through the swamps, mountaine, valleys, and plains of Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas, Mississippi. Tennessee, Kentucky and West Virginia to complete the line. The Federal Power Commission issued a certificate of authorization on Sept. 24, 1948.

Alleged War Necessity.

"The line is being built as a war necessity." Symonds said in an interview "The army needs this gas for war plants in the Appalachian area. Because of this we enjoyed the right of foderal condemnation to secure a right of way. What difficulties we might have had along this line thus dis-condemnation to secure a right of way. What difficulties we might condemnation to secure a right of way. What difficulties we might have had along this line thus disappeared."

Asked how long his company believed Texas natural gas resources could sustain the line, Symonds said: "The eminent New York gas economist, Lyon F. Terry, estimates Texas natural gas reserves at 75 trillion feet or more than twice the state's crude oil reserve, We accept his figures."

Line Underground.

Practically all of the line is underground. The cost icludes $16.00,000 for pipe, $8,000,000 for right of way and $2,700,000 for river crossings. Every river from the Rio Grande to the Shenandoah is spanned.

The line bridges 13 Texas rivers, crossing the Colorado, Brazos, and Sabine by bridge and subnerging across the Nueces, Aransas, San Antonio, Guadalupe, Lavace, Navidad. San Bernard, San Jacinto, Trinity, Neches and Angelina.

A $200,000 dehydration plant to enna. A $200,000 dehydration plant to ake the gas totally dry is located the Stratton field near Corpus Christi.

The Chicago corporation and the Gulf States Oil Company will supply Tennessee Gas and Transmission with gas for the line. At the West Virginia terminus the output will go to the Hope Natural Gas Company of Clarksburg and the United Fuel Company of Charleston. These West Virginia companies will market the fuel to war industries. war industries.

A maintenance and operating force of 500 will be required after completion of the line.

CIO OFFICIAL IN FAVOR PERMANENT FEPC LEGISLATION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7—(P)— James B Carey, secretary-treasur-er of the Congress of Industrial Organizations, told a congressional committee today a guarantee of full employment would serve as the best weapon for breaking down racial barriers in postwar industry.

He joined with James H. Shelton, chairman of New Rork's com-mittee on fair employment practices in urging a Senate labor subcommittee of a give immediate approval of a bill to establish a permanent FEPC.

The CIO found, Carey testified, that fu'l production for war has been made posible "only by breaking down racial barriers on the iob."

In the postwar period, he said, the CIO "wants full employment for all, barring none."

Carey also told Senator Aiken (R-Vt) that "there is no sound reason" why the nation can't provide jobs in peace-time for women now working in war plants."

OLD MEN MADE MESS OF WORLD: NOW FOR POSTWAR FRESH START*

Story of Saul's Failure and Young David's Rise a Parable of Present Situation-The King's Fundamental Mistake-The Hard Way Up to a Throne

By WILLIAM T. ELLIS We shudder as we brood upon the present cost of the blunders of young shepherd David to the throne; but the parallel with our times is too close to be ignored.

Our thoughts are turned to the ner home were his brother. Henry Beauford Jester has returned to ry Buckner of Waco and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Wickware and children of Pauls Valley, Oklahoma.

Earl Dean Yates is visiting her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Bell in Louislana.

An Old-Time Tragedy
In his limited sphere, King Saul had as great an opportunity as Versailles. He was of towering and fit physique, a winsome personality. He set out with noble ideals and real religious reverence. He fought great battles successfully. He had the counsel of the simple sort that believes that twisted him. David's faith was of the simple sort that believes that and above God's law. True; it is not easy for a man in high post to rise above the flatteries ad best greatingly stature. For the great to greatness.
